HEALING SUMMIT postponed to May 2022

The 7th annual event, scheduled for October 2021 in Portugal, has been re-scheduled

Cologne, Germany, July 8, 2021 -- The HEALING SUMMIT, the international conference dedicated to healing, wellbeing and initiating positive personal and societal change, is moving its in-person conference to May 2022. The 7th annual HEALING SUMMIT, scheduled for October 2021 in Albufeira, Portugal, has been re-scheduled due to the constantly changing Corona Virus infection rates around the globe.

An initiative of the Healing Hotels of the World, the HEALING SUMMIT brings together individuals from around the world who are drawn to collaborate, raise awareness and inspire change. Socially conscious speakers from the fields of finance, science, healing modalities, mission-oriented organizations, and travel join with delegates to create a gathering of global change-makers committed to doing good.

The co-founders of the HEALING SUMMIT, Anne Biging, Elisabeth Ixmeier and Claudia Roth are dedicated to the wellbeing of the delegates, speakers, administration, and hotel staff and stressed that the welfare and good health of all attendees is their number one priority.

Anne Biging emphasizes: "Although great progress has been made in stemming the Corona Virus tide, every country has its own particular story. While we wish it would have been safe to gather as planned in October, the wide disparity of COVID cases in different parts of the world means that we firmly believe the best option would be to wait further. Despite this, our commitment to healing is stronger than ever, and we remain open to this amazing community we've created together."

In addition to the rescheduled event in May 2022, the HEALING SUMMIT and Healing Hotels of the World team will honor the original intention of coming together by planning a half-day virtual HEALING SUMMIT for this October (2021). Dr. Elisabeth Ixmeier, says "following the summer, we will organize a virtual gathering so that we may all convene, hear from thought leaders, enjoy profound healing sessions and share in conversation. By participating in this online event, we will empower the momentum of supporting one another.”

Since the pandemic began, the organization has expanded its online experiences so that it may share the incredible power supplied by their network of healing experts with people in every corner of the globe. There have been regular HEALING SUMMIT calls, virtual healing retreats and sessions with leading Ayurvedic doctors, holistic practitioners, contemporary shamans, psychosomatic medicine specialists, and energy coaches and facilitators, bringing people together for powerful virtual healing moments.

More information on the in-person HEALING SUMMIT in Portugal next year and the virtual summit this autumn is forthcoming.
